

Dani Jack's first taste of the stage came when she was cast as The Little Drummer Boy at just four years old in her hometown of Sparks, Nevada. Since then, Dani's singing and performing abilities have taken her to various venues around the world, most notably the Bluebird Cafe and Tootsie's Orchid Lounge in Nashville, the Brandin' Iron in Southern California, the Vivint Smart Home Arena in Salt Lake City, and the Venetian Resort Hotel Casino in Las Vegas and China, among many others.

Fresh off the release of her debut single "Fallin' For It," released exclusively on WSMV TODAY in Nashville, Dani introduced to fans her highly anticipated debut EP, Grace, produced by Luke Forehand (Blackbird Studios). Her most recent single, "Dance," has garnered attention from multiple music blogs and features a heartfelt lyric video.

PRESS QUOTES

"From Patsy Cline to Carrie Underwood, there's nothing she can't sing. Her vocals shine through in each track and offer so much variety. It's not just the same sound set to different music, but each track is truly a different experience." - Jencita Vargas, VARIETY BEAT

"Dani's sound is confident without being cocky and flows easily rather than feeling forced. While more in the vein of modern country than classic, Grace has a little bit of everything for country music lovers and fans of pop music alike." - Kayla Lee, OUT FROM THE PINE BOX
